TICKETS ON SALE TOMORROW FOR QANTAS WALLABIES VERSUS FIJI TEST MATCH

Minister for Tourism, Sport and Recreation, Andrew Barr, today announced that tickets to the general public for the Qantas Wallabies versus Fiji test match will go on sale tomorrow.

“I am pleased to announce that tickets to the Qantas Wallabies versus Fiji test match will go on sale to the general public tomorrow, Tuesday 11 May 2010 at 9 am,” said Mr Barr.

“Canberrans are encouraged to get their tickets early and not miss out on this exciting sporting event for the ACT.

“The international test match will take place at Canberra Stadium on Saturday 5 June 2010.

“It’s great to have the Qantas Wallabies come back to Canberra to take on Fiji. They played in the Nation’s Capital last year, when the Wallabies took on Italy.

“We are privileged to be hosting this international match here in Canberra at our elite sporting facility – Canberra Stadium. We look forward to welcoming the many supporters from interstate and overseas who will want to be part of the Wallabies first test for 2010.

“I’m calling on Canberra sporting fans to come out in large numbers to support our Australian side.

“With around 15,000 people registered in local and southern NSW rugby competitions, and a strong following for our local CA Brumbies, I expect a strong crowd to attend this match,” said Mr Barr.

Tickets are available through Ticketek on 132 849 or www.ticketek.com.au
